Local Rotarians Hear James H. Walker

J. H. Walker, M.L.A. was the speaker at the Rotary Luncheon and reported briefly on some of the highlights of the recent session in Edmonton. There was a good attendance present to enjoy the usual fine luncheon and to listen to our local member.

The speaker dwelt on a number of items, mentioning the proposed health scheme of the Dominion and what the province proposed with respect to the free hospitalization for 12 days of all maternity cases, and which was expected to be the beginning of health insurance for all.

He mentioned suggestions of some that the old age pension age be reduced to sixty years instead of seventy, and that the amount be increased to $50. per month, and he gave figures to show what this change would cost the Dominion and the Province. He also stated that some had advocated lowering the pension age to fifty years and increasing the payment to $100 per month and also including free medical and dental care and burial for all pensioners besides the monthly pension payment. He felt that this was entirely beyond the ability of the contributing governments to even consider and he felt that most people felt like he did, but he said that the proponents of this scheme said that all we needed was free money and it wouldn't matter if we paid $50 or $500 a month to pensioners so long as the money didn't cost us anything.

He referred briefly to the efforts to get definite commitments for post-war projects, and said that as a community we should not slacken our efforts in this respect. In passing he stated that we sometimes felt committees and representations accomplished nothing, but he stated that livestock prices had improved some what, and better prices were offered today, and said that no doubt the committee now in Ottawa interviewing the Minister of Agriculture and other officials had something to do with this improvement. He urged that we keep after the governments in Ottawa and Edmonton to carry out the proposed St. Mary's - Milk River projects.

Mrs. Redd had some of the Grade II boys present and they sang a couple of numbers for the meeting which were much appreciated. These children are developing some fine voices and later years will undoubtedly prove the value of the teaching of music in our lower school grades.

A re-organization of the Social Credit Group for Raymond and district was held Wednesday night at the Town Hall, where a meeting with about 30 present was held. Official's elected were as follows:

Carnival Committee Hosts To Helpers

Last Saturday night the Opera House was the scene of an enjoyable party when the Carnival Committee were hosts to the many men and women who have helped to make Carnivals so successful. In the list of invited guests were the complete personnel of the Lions and Rotary Clubs all of whom either directly, or through the Club had had a finger in the pie so to speak.

About 140 people were seated at the tables to partake of a plate lunch of beans, salad, and cocoa, topped off with ice cream and cookies. During the meal Ern Nilsson, Renan Pack, Paul Moreland and Frank Taylor were appointed tail twisters for the evening and centred their attacks on those who were foolish enough to be caught sitting by their partner of the evening. This caused much laughter, but we are wondering who got the "dough" that these fellows collected.

A short program followed the lunch, including community singing, a solo by Mrs. Sara G. Low, remarks by Melvin T. King, Chairman of the Opera House Committee and Stake Pres. T. Geo. Wood.

In his remarks Mr. King welcomed everyone to the party and hoped they would all have an enjoyable evening. He mentioned those who had aided so much in the renovation and improving of the building which had made it a credit to the community and a place where we could enjoy ourselves in dancing, games, music and so on. He felt that what had been done was only a good beginning to what could and should be done. That a full life needed recreation and enjoyment more than was the case with most of us today, and that leisure time while meant to be pleasant should also be profitable, and the Opera House could and should be made to fill this need. He plead for an appreciation of and respect for the building, that it be maintained in its present splendid appearance and condition and asked that we all take a personal interest in it to see that it is maintained. For fear of missing smoo, we shall refrain from attempting to mention the names of the individuals, groups and firms, that the speaker mentioned for their valuable assistance.

Pres. Wood spoke very briefly and said that he was very happy in what had been achieved. For a time it looked as though the Opera House, which was an institution with us, might have to be abandoned, and he was glad that community effort and enterprise had prevented this and given us the very fine centre we are enjoying at the present time. He felt sure that the original sponsors of the Raymond Opera House must feel very happy to see the fine building commencing to attain part of the vision which was in their minds when the scheme was first conceived.

A few rounds of "free" bingo with suitable prizes followed this while the crowd of dancers were assembling and then the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing with Nolan's Canadiana dispensing the music. During the dance the drawing took place for the beautiful satin comforter which was the prize of the evening, the lucky ticket being held by Mrs. Ern Nilsson.

We are sure we voice the sentiment of everyone when we say "Thank You" to the Carnival and Opera House Committee for a very enjoyable evening. Golden Snow was the Master of Ceremonies for the evening.

LET'S FIX THE STREETS

It feels like spring. Our Town Planning Commission and Town Council are ready to proceed with the improving of Broadway through the business section. Let's not leave it all to 12 men to do this. Let's offer our assistance and before spring work gets us all busy let's get this street fixed up and make it a credit to our Town.

The sidewalk should be widened and resurfaced. A boulevard should be extended out 12 to 16 feet and then a gutter put in. It can be done and it should be done. Well, let's do it NOW.

Jimmy Weaver, stationed at No. 8 B and G, Lethbridge, was home over the week-end.

One day the feel of spring is in the air. The next day with a cutting wind and frost in the air, you know darn well that spring isn't here yet.

SPRING FEVER

Don't you love that first breath of Spring—the clear, beautiful yodelling of meadow-larks? The sun shining warm overhead; the sweet smell of the thawing earth, and the soft fuzzy looking pussy willows. The ditch banks turning green and the fields showing brown and inviting.

The laboring of the tractor breaking the stillness, a music of its own. The glimpses of its passing beyond the trees, a contrasting red through its green making a picture never to be forgotten.

Horses and cattle sleepily melting the winter chill from their bones in the warm friend liness of old "Sol".

Pheasants boldly challenging anything trespassing over favorite parade grounds, their rasping telegraphing greeting you from every angle.

From overhead the pungent sticky smell of popular buds drifts down to cling to your nostrils, giving a reality to the deep azure of the spring sky marked with fleecy banks of snow white clouds.

Don't it give you a drabby feeling—it does me too, Mom calls it Spring Fever.

THE POST WAR WORLD

What will our post war world be like? With the various solutions put forward, the hopes of many people for a world without hard work, without responsibility and without worry, we are going to have a real Utopia. A paradise that has been the dream of certain elements of society since the dawn of history.

We don't pose as a fortune teller nor a prophet. However we are not of the opinion that any political party, nor any government will succeed in subverting the word of God as contained in Holy Writ. When Adam and Eve were expelled from the garden of Eden because of disobedience, they were told that they should eat their bread by the sweat of their brow. From that day forward it has been the lot of the human family to work for sustenance. True there have been inequalities, and they still exist. Some have been given greater advantages than others. Some have stronger bodies and brighter minds than others, but generally speaking it resolves itself into the eternal struggle for the survival of the fittest.

We have a great deal of sympathy with the free thinkers who would rebuild the world. However, we think a lot of time and effort would be saved, if they would stay with in the realm of reason and common sense and not get off on such fantastic tangents. Luxury is for the few. If we can level out the standards some and raise the lower and lower the higher without revolution and without doing away with private enterprise we shall accomplish a great work. If we can brighten the future of the people who are approaching the evening of life and remove the fear of the future from their minds, it will be very meritorious. However, facts must be faced, exaggerations, and leading the suckers into a field of thought that is beyond reason is not smart, kind, nor beneficial to anyone. Thrift, economy and private enterprise are the foundations of character. Character is the foundation of a successful civilization. When we rob youth of the opportunity to dream, to plan and to work for their future, we are robbing them of their birthright. Any planning that will guarantee to youth the chances they are entitled to, that will preserve the sacredness of private enterprise, that will maintain the jewelness of independence and freedom of thought with security in old age, should be encouraged and worked for. Against this any plan that tends to regiment people's thinking, that endeavors to do the planning for the members of society, and that humiliates our venerable old people to make them just one more person, despite what it offers or the gaudiness of its colors will never succeed, though all the powers of the world are back of it, because it is in opposition to the will of the Creator of the world.

Folks, keep your feet on the ground and keep your thinking free, it is the blood stream of true democracy.

There is a considerable amount of minor sickness in town, and we understand a mild outbreak of measles.

The report of the Provincial Post-War Reconstruction Committee, tabled last week in the irrigation projects as suitable Legislature, listed a number of and necessary post-war projects and the St. Mary's and Milk River projects, which have been harped on and talked about for years, headed the list. The committee estimates this project would furnish employment for 600 men for ten years. If we can do anything to boost this suggestion, we certainly ought to do it.

"Bugs" in the Grain Bins

Seven or eight years ago, a distinguished authority on insects stated that, in Western Canada, we need never worry about insect damage in our stored grain. Most authorities are occasionally wrong, and he was no exception.

It is not our purpose to spread false alarm, but merely to draw attention to the defensive measures at our disposal. In guarding against losses due to insects in farm stored grain, we have three powerful allies. They are: a cold climate, a dry climate and a very efficient Division of Entomology in the Dominion Department of Agriculture. Despite these advantages losses have been suffered and will continue unless the necessary precautions are observed.

The best prevention against loss is storing only dry grain, and keeping it dry by means of ventilated granaries which exclude rain and snow and which are constructed so as to provide an air space between the floor and the ground. As added insurance, it is wise to bin grain during cold weather or move it and, if possible clean it, during very cold weather.

If storing tough grain is unavoidable, it should be examined regularly and, at the first sign of heating or infestation by mites or insects, it should be run through a fanning mill, threshing machine or combine.

All Line Elevator agents have copies of a Dominion Government leaflet on this subject and, also, the "Seedtime and Harvest" leaflet which gives more detail than space allows here.

NOT BAD AT ALL

(Buffalo Courier-Express)

We were going to write a piece about slow progress of the Allied campaign in Italy. Then we glanced at the Washington dispatches and found Secretary of War Stimson had bea'en us to the punch.

According to Mr. Stimson, American and British troops in Italy already have achieved "broad strategical purposes," as follows:

Opening of the Mediterranean to Allied shipping.

Knocking Italy out of the war as an Axis partner.

Seizure of air bases in southern Italy.

Allied control of a large part of the Adriatic.

Indirect help to the Soviet winter campaign by pinning down 19 German divisions on the Italian front, and Inflicting casualties on the German forces substantially in excess of Allied casualties.

Mr. Stimson didn't say that the Allies have done everything they went into Italy to do. He conceded that rain, snow and mud have slowed up not only our ground forces but also our aircraft. In view of all the circumstances, however, it is not a bad record—not bad at all.

So we guess we won't write that piece about slow progress of the Allied campaign in Italy.

THE BREEDER'S GAZETTE

A U. S. Publication handed us by Mr. G. W. Heathershaw has a list of ten quiz's. Here is one No. 2: What can a livestock man be doing these winter days?

Answer: A livestock man can be carefully planning his 1944 crops, taking care to provide for sufficient grain and plenty of good roughage. He can haul manure, check over the machinery, order those needed parts, clip the udders of the dairy cows, treat the calves' horns with caustic potash, check the water supply, see about that seed corn order "tag the ewes", and he should be studying the income tax blank and instructions so he can get all the exemptions to which he is entitled.

MERCURIAL DUSTS REPLACING FORMALDEHYDE IN SEED TREATMENT

Treatment of seed grain to control smut has been a common practice for many years. More recently it has been found that the use of a mercurial dust such as Ceresan, not only controls the smut but also reduces the damage to seed and seedlings from organisms carried in the soil. Formaldehyde may reduce the vigour of germination of wheat and it must not be used for hullless oats or flax says A. M. Wilson, Field Crops Commissioner.

In the fall of 1943 strength of germination of grain was lowered by frost damage in certain districts of the prairie provinces. If formaldehyde is used on seed of this kind a further reduction in its ability to grow will take place. A reliable rule to follow would be to treat seed with a mercurial dust such as Ceresan for the control of smut and other seed borne diseases. The strength of germination may be increased rather than decreased and the germinating seed may obtain some protection from soil borne organisms.

On the Home Front too...

● When a gun goes into action every man has a job to do. Seconds count, and team work gets results.

Training... endless training... gets efficiency that makes each man part of a perfect machine.

But something more than efficiency is needed to make a top-rank fighting unit. There must be loyalty... that spirit of responsibility that each man feels toward his mates.

We've got efficiency on the farm front... we're producing more, and with less help to do it. Keep up the teamwork that will make each one of us go all out to support our men on the fighting fronts.

We too, are part of a fighting unit... citizens of a nation at war. We must not let our men on the fighting fronts down.

Invasion means high tension on the fighting fronts... combined operations... thorough team work in every detail. And that call for greater action comes back to us at home. We have a job to do here, too. We must all buy Victory Bonds. We have a responsibility to our mates on the firing line. We can't let them down.

And the job that we are asked to do is... save more, and lend more to our country. We are asked to let our country have the use of money that we do not need now. We will have the money later on to improve our farms and to buy stock and equipment; for new barns and silos; for new furnishings and conveniences for our homes.

Be ready to buy more Victory Bonds.

DANNY BOY

Oh, Danny Boy, the pipes, the pipes are calling From glen to glen, and down
the mountain side,
The summer's gone and all the roses falling,
It's you, it's you must go and I must bide.
But come ye back when summer's in the meadow,
Or when the valley's hushed and white with snow, It's I'll be here in sunshine or in shadow,
Oh, Danny Boy, I love you so,
I love you so.
But when ye come, and all the flowers are dying,
If I am dead, as dead
I well may be,
Ye'll come and find the place where I am lying,
And kneel and say an "Ave"
there for me;
And I shall hear, though soft ye tread above me,
And all my grave will warmer, sweeter be,
For you will bend and tell me
that you love me,
And I shall sleep in peace until you come to me.

CRUSOE'S AD

One of the most persistent advertisers in the history of success was our school boy idol Robinson Crusoe.

He knew what he wanted and he put out his ad. He flung a shirt on a pole at the top of his island. Every seafaring man would know what that ad meant.

The circulation was small.
There was no other advertising medium. But Crusoe kept at it despite the fact that he got no changed his copy—as one gar-inquiries for a long time. He ment after the other frayed out —and in the end he got results.

Suppose Crusoe had taken down that advertisement after a time and declared: "advertising doesn't pay!" Where would he and his story be now?

Put up your signal and keep it there. Crusoe advertised under very discouraging circumstances. You have a sure thing.
It is only necessary to have the patience, persistence and pluck of Robinson Crusoe.

First Objective

IN these decisive months all Canada's effort is concentrated on one great objective — the attack that is to destroy the Nazi menace and all that it represents. Years of work have gone into its preparation. The best of our young men are staking their lives on its success.

We in Canada must support and strengthen this attack with all our effort. This one purpose must command our work, our minds and our hearts.

We must not permit any scramble for private gain or individual selfish ends, to distract us from our main task. If we concentrate on higher pay or higher profits, we shall be divert-
